CHINESE NEW YEAR OF THE HORSE MENU

20th & 21st February 2026

£65pp

Chinese banquet menus consist of 8 or 9 dishes. The sound of 8 in Chinese is similar to the words "prosper", while 9 is similar to "long-lasting", whether in life or marriage.

Crispy Duck Pancakes

For the Chinese, the duck is a symbol of fidelity. Served as a whole, it also represents peace and unity, and a lasting union

Crispy Money Bags

Dumplings filled with prawns represent wealth because they are created in the shape of historical Chinese gold ingots or money bags.

Vegetable Spring Rolls

Spring rolls get their name because they are traditionally eaten during the Spring Festival
'A ton of gold' (because fried spring rolls look like gold bars) — a wish for prosperity.

Steamed Scallops with XO

Scallops are pronounced "dai zi" in Chinese, which can also refer to raising children, and are seen as a representation of fertility and life

Miso Salmon

In Chinese culture, the fish symbolizes abundance, prosperity, and surplus because the Chinese word for fish "yu" is a homophone for the word for 'surplus'

Sweet & Sour Chicken

Red dishes are featured at weddings as red is the colour of happiness. You'll find them served at New Year's banquets for the same reason.

UK Wagyu Beef, Broccoli Spears, Asparagus in Birds Nest

Long Green vegetables for a green year and good harvest. Served in a bulgogi sauce

Vegetable Chow Mein

Noodles are a symbol of a long life

Fortune Cookies/Oranges

Eating and displaying oranges is believed to bring good luck and fortune. The Chinese for orange is "chéng" which sounds the same as the Chinese for 'success'

VEGETARIAN OPTION

Szechuan Gua Bao

Chai Vegetable Gyoza

Steamed King Mushroom Scallop with XO

Piquant Vegetables

Sweet & Sour Tempura Vegetables

DINNER FROM 8pm

Entertainment from 9.00

Chinese Firecrackers - Lion Dance
